Beautiful beaches, picturesque sceneries, great gastronomy

Gabicce Mare voted amongst one of the Best Secret Seaside in Italy by the Daily Telegraph. A small town nestled on the Adriatic Coast on the border between le Marche and Emilia-Romagna Regions; a sweep of white sand that extends from woodland to canal and breakwaters protecting the beach from rough seas. The more rugged area of Gabicce Monte offers stunning views over the cove, Rimini, San Marino and beyond. Along the Monte San Bartolo Nature Reserve exclusive and secluded beaches below the picturesque medieval hamlets of Casteldimezzo and Fiorenzuola di Focara can be enjoyed, all accompanied by fantastic bars and restaurants where traditional “Aperitivo”, wine and superb local traditional gastronomy can be appreciated.
